A: Kingsley Anowi feat. Jabaman - Beautiful (Thermal remix)

This track is a feel-good, summer-time party tune! Kinglsey's soulful vocals coupled with Jabaman's Caribbean style chants on top of a groovy bass line and rolling drums.

B: Thermal - Cardiac Caress

It's spacious and uplifting with a delicate trance feeling, while at the same time blending in some ol'skool amen vibes. Big room breakdown & liquid sound.

Thermal, aka Åsmund Mæland, is living in a mountain town called Bergen on the west-coast of Norway. He began playing classical music at the age of ten, and when fourteen he discovered the pleasures of electronic music. His d'n'b style is a mixed breed and a melting pot of inspiration from many different genres - breakbeat, trance, hiphop, reggae, basically anything he'll find interesting. He is a huge fan of contrasts, and will easily stick a filthy bass line under an otherwise smooth track, or throw some chilled out jazz keys over a nasty background. Thermal's intention is to make music you can listen to again and again, discovering new details and layers. Most of his tracks are for the club, but are still complex enough to stand the test of repeated home listening. Thermal will also release a CD album on Pilot Music in fall 2007.

Mastering done by Morten Vinten at Medley Mastering Studios in Copenhagen. Cover designed by CLAE.
